

Dr. Kimberly Majeski is a scholar, storyteller and activist. She is an ordained pastor in the Church of God, Anderson, Indiana. After nearly two decades as a professor of Biblical Studies, Kimberly now serves as the Executive Director of Christian Women Connection, leading women around the globe to serve the church and build up the kingdom. Focused on Jesus and women, Kimberly's scholarship is featured on the History Channel, A&E, and in many books, articles, and publications. She lives at the heart of the justice movement as the founder of Stripped Love, a non-profit serving survivors of sex trafficking. A widely sought-after preacher, in 2019, Kimberly launched the Preacher Girl School, a dynamic online women's preaching clinic. She now convenes the Arise Academy with the same charisma and enthusiasm supporting the women who hold up the world. Kimberly is married to Kevin and mama to Max; she loves to golf, shop, and laugh until she cries.
